UND Department of Computer Science

Graduate Qualifying Exam (GQE)
Sections: Database Mgt Systems (DB), Operating Systems (OS), Theoretical Foundation (TF)

Exam Date: Saturday February 22
9:00 am – 11 am (DB)
12:00 pm -2:00 pm (TF)
3:00 pm to 5:00 pm (OS)

Registration Date: December 30, 2013 –February 14, 2014

The GQE is required for ALL graduate students, and students must commence taking the examination by the second semester of enrollment in order to be eligible for department funding consideration. Students who fail a section of the examination are required to enroll in the related course at the next offering. The examination is closed book and written; it will be for three (2) hours. Students will sit two (2) or more sections of the exam in Spring 2014.

What will be covered in GQE?

A set of selected textbooks will constitute the recommended review material for GQE. The reading list includes:

1. Theoretical Foundation (TF):

2. Database Management System (DB):

3. Operating Systems (OS):

Registering

You will be asked to go to the front desk located at Streibel Hall, Room 201 to register for the exam. It is recommended that you first consult with your advisor before you take GQE.

GQE Results

The results will be announced as soon as possible after the exams are graded.